Continuum - The Art of Daniel Graves

Please join us for the opening celebration of "Continuum - The Art of Daniel Graves" on February 2, 2019 at The Accademia.

Founded by Vasari 500 years ago, The Accademia delle Arti del Disegno was home to members the likes of Michelangelo, DaVinci, Donatello, and Cellini. A solo exhibition of works by Rochester, NY native and painter, Daniel Graves, will open at the Accademia in February 2019. It will be the first exhibition of this kind in Florence since the artist's arrival in the city 40 years ago.

The venue - the Accademia's exhibition hall - offers Graves the perfect setting to showcase his life-long study of the human figure, a central theme of his work. About the event, Graves says, "This exhibition reflects the story of my life: my deeply felt connection to Florence and the artistic traditions that have been upheld here for so many centuries."

Graves is founder of The Florence Academy of Art, a world-renowned institution dedicated to the training of figurative realism. Like the Accademia, the Florence Academy of Art is both philosophically and physically rooted in Florence's artistic heritage. The "figurative" and "humanistic" tradition of both city and academy continue to attract young people who see Florence as the ideal place for their artistic training.
